

Introducing: Pintado aka Brazilian Tiger-Fish

Latin: pseudoplatystoma ssp. (catfish)

Common Names: Tiger-Fish, Tigerwel, Silure de Tigre

Local: Pintado

Specie Info: Pintado is a freshwater fish from the Pantanal and Parana River basins in Brazil. It is a skin fish (no scales) feeding mainly on other fish.

Wild/Aquaculture: Aquaculture

GMO Free

Antibiotic Free

No additives or preservatives guaranteed.

Pintado has extraordinarily eye-catching skin, free from scales. It is boneless, graded 6-8oz. The texture is moderately dense and holds together well when cooked. The flesh cooks up white, has a moderated flake and mild flavor suitable for to take on marinades & seasonings and even smoke.

